SENATE AND HOUSE.

Proceedings of Both Branches of Congress.

NEARLY THE SAME OLD STORY.

The Silver Debate Continued in the Senate Without Any Action Being Taken. One Bill Passes the House and Several Others Discussed—The Late William Mutchler Remembered.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The third act of Tuesday's legislative session was performed yesterday. The actors who played the leading roles were Senators Hill of New York, Butler of South Carolina and Palmer of Illinois, while minor parts were taken by Senators Stewart of Nevada, Dubois of Idaho, Peffer of Kansas and Hear of Massachusetts.

The subject of the performance was whether the name of Mr. Teller of Colorado should be entered on the journal of Monday as having been present and having refused to answer when called. The dialogue was brief and near the close of the performance there was a witty suggestion on the part of Mr. Palmer of Illinois that, as Mr. Teller himself had presented the question to the senate he should be treated with that courtesy. He asked unanimous consent to that effect and when it was refused he sat down with a half tragic expression, saying that he abandoned the motion in despair. His remark was followed by a wail from a child in the gallery, after which he exclaimed: "Listen to the echo of my despair."

The closing speech was made by Mr. Butler of South Carolina. After a well-phrased dialogue between him and Senators Hill and Palmer, the galleries applauded once too often and were so sharply rebuked by the vice president that one of the offenders, a well-dressed intelligent man, rose and confessed that he had been a conspicuous transgressor and would leave the gallery, where he had been an accustomed visitor for the last six weeks. Mr. Butler intimated that the galleries were packed for the benefit of Mr. Hill.

At the close of Mr. Butler's speech the motion to amend was withdrawn, the journal of Monday was approved, the morning hour of Tuesday was dispensed with, and at 4:10 the repeal bill was taken up and Mr. Peffer (Pop., Kan.) resumed the speech against it which he began last week.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The house made the bankruptcy bill a continuing special order for Monday next, the measure to be considered in committee of the whole, where it will be open to amendments on each paragraph. A bill was passed granting certain public lands to the territory of Arizona. A bill requiring government aided railroads to provide stations at town sites within the territories where such town sites have been established by the interior department was discussed, but not disposed of.

The printing bill was further considered without final determination. The remainder of the day was consumed in eulogistic addresses of the late William Mutchler of Pennsylvania in respect to whose memory the house, at 3:45, adjourned.

THE WRONG MEN.

General Belief That the Wratten Murderers Are at Large.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Oct. 20.—Habeas corpus proceedings were begun in the Clark county court in behalf of William Kays, one of the five men now being held in the Jeffersonville penitentiary, charged with the butchery of the Wratten family of six members in Daviess county a few weeks ago. Attorney Tieman, Kays' counsel, says he is prepared to prove a complete alibi for Kays; that a dozen trustworthy people will testify that Kays was far away from the scene of the murder when it was committed.

Warden Patton of the penitentiary testified that he was holding the prisoners on an order from Judge Heffron. A prominent Daviess county lawyer expressed the belief that the authorities were on the wrong scent and that all the arrests would fall to the ground. McCaffery, one of the accused, is a brother-in-law of the head of the butchered family.

MELLO'S REVOLT.

Forces Massing For a Fight at Rio Janeiro.

MONTEVIDEO, Oct. 20.—The Herald's correspondent in Rio Janeiro sends advice that the revolutionary party under Admiral Mello will probably establish a provisional government at Desterro.

A general plan of government will be arranged, and a program for offensive and defensive attacks will be mapped out. The leaders hope to obtain recognition from foreign powers.

More Smallpox.

MUNCIE, Ind., Oct. 20.—Yesterday F. B. Miller was discovered at 1006 South Walnut street, suffering from smallpox. He has had the disease for two weeks, and has succeeded in secreting the fact. There is great indignation at him, and the whole family was taken to the hospital. Thomas J. Hoover, who had the disease several years ago, and has been acting as a nurse at the hospital, has contracted it again.

Will Likely Recover.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Oct. 20.—Mrs. C. Ward, while carrying a pail of boiling water, fell and spilled the contents on the back of her 4-year-old daughter. The child was terribly scalded, but will likely recover.

IS DR. GRAVES DEAD?

A Sensational Story That He Did Not Commit Suicide.

DENVER, Oct. 20.—The News published a sensational article to the effect that Dr. Graves, the famous prisoner, who was supposed to have committed suicide in jail here, is not dead. It is maintained that a pine log occupied the coffin instead of his body, as was supposed.

The story is that Charles N. Chandler, a wealthy citizen of Thompson Center, Conn., arrived here Tuesday in company with Stephen Morse of the same town, which is Dr. Graves' old home, and where the body is supposed to have been buried. These gentlemen told the hotel proprietor where they stopped that Dr. Graves was not dead, that the casket was opened at the grave in Thompson Center against the protests of the widow, and found to contain a pine log instead of a dead body, and that the supposed dead doctor is now enjoying his liberty in a foreign country.

A rumor has been current here for some time past that the body carried from the cell in the county jail on that Sunday morning was wax, and not the flesh of the alleged famous prisoner, and that this trick had been played in order to give the prisoner his liberty and deceive the public; that the parties to the deception were some high officials and a secret organization.

This rumor was strengthened by the fact that no one was allowed to view the remains except the most intimate friends of the Graves family; and also that Mrs. Graves refused to allow the body to be embalmed before shipping it to Massachusetts, but this is the first time the report has appeared in print.

A CEMETERY FLOODED.

Coffins Were Washed Out and Some of the Corpses Exposed.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 20.—Officers of the Weems line steamers report that a cemetery on Solomon's island was badly washed in Friday's storm. The burial ground was in the yard of the Methodist Episcopal church that stood on the end of a long, low strip of ground, with water on either side. The graves were only slightly above the water level and within 15 feet of the water's edge.

During the storm the waters gradually approached the graves and tombstones. The mounds began to level and the marble slabs to topple. In a short while the grassy surface had disappeared. Many of the tombstones were prostrated and some of the coffins were exposed. Next, the waves completely hid the cemetery, and when the storm subsided the earth was torn and bare and coffins were broken open, corpses were exposed and the clothing of some of the dead was found on the beach.

LOST IN A GREAT CITY.

Two Sisters From the Country Disappeared in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Bena and Anna Hederach of Warsaw, Ill., are lost in Chicago. They left their home on Monday, going across the Mississippi river and boarding a Burlington train at Alexandria, Mo. From that place they telegraphed relatives here to meet them at the Union depot. Their aunt, Mrs. Philip Bricker, went to meet them at the station, but did not find them in the immense crowd.

Nothing has been heard of them since they left Alexandria. Bena is 23 and Anna 18, both being strikingly handsome girls. They had both been working at Warsaw, trying to support their aged father, but as they were able to earn only small wages decided to come to Chicago, and after a few days at the fair go to work. Their relatives in Warsaw are anxiously awaiting word from them, and the police department here is putting forth every effort to locate them.

SHELBY IN DANGER.

A Kentucky Murderer Closely Guarded to Prevent Lynching.

BARDWELL, Ky., Oct. 20.—O. M. Shelby was returned from jail at Paducah late yesterday afternoon, and his motion for a new trial will perhaps be settled today. The jail was heavily guarded all night, but no attempt was made to mob or liberate him. Shelby was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Sallie Moore in Ballard county in 1887, and the jury recommended a life sentence.

Pending his motion for a new trial, he was confined in the jail at Paducah far safekeeping, and in case no new trial is granted his attorney says an appeal will be taken. His nephew, Evan Shelby, after being convicted as a co-worker in the same crime, was hanged by a mob at Wickliff three years ago; but the authorities, and also friends of O. M. Shelby, are taking great precautions to prevent similar proceedings in this case.

HANGING BY HER FOOT.

The Engine Cut It Off, but Her Life Was Saved.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—A trestle accident, unique in the history of railroading, is reported from Shamokin, Pa. Across a gorge near Shamokin is a long trestle on the Reading road. Mrs. Miranda Anderson, who lives near Shamokin, was crossing the trestle and when near the middle she heard the rumble of the Reading express train behind her.

It was useless to try to run across the open structure. She therefore leaped for her life, but as she jumped her foot caught between the outer rail and the guard rail and held her fast, head downward, 20 feet above the gorge. The train came on with a rush, cut off her foot, and she dropped head foremost to the brook under the trestle. It is believed she will recover.

A MILLIONAIRE'S WILL.

His Relatives Get Small Bequests and the Residue Goes to Charity.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Charles Barthgate Beck, the West Farms millionaire, who died a week ago, it is said, left an estate which will foot up $5,000,000 or $6,000,000. The will has not yet been filed, but it is understood that Mr. Beck bequeathes to several legatees nearly $500,000, of which Mr. Jessup, who for years has been Mr. Beck's right-hand man, and his mother receive about $250,000.

With one or two exceptions the rest of the legatees receive money in lots of not over $10,000, and the residue of the estate is divided into seven parts, to be devoted to educational and charitable purposes.

The first institution mentioned is Columbia college of the school of law of which Mr. Beck was a graduate. Nearly $1,000,000 is set apart to endow four law scholarships, establish prizes and for the benefit of the institution proper.

The board of Presbyterian missions is next in the list of beneficiaries, and is remembered by a gift of many thousands of dollars.

The Peabody home for old women, the New York hospital, the home for incurables and Dr. Parkhurst's society for the suppression of vice, complete the list of seven beneficiaries, to whom shares of the residue of $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 are either given outright or left as an endowment.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals also comes in for a big slice of the estate.

GERMAN HEGIRA.

Settlers Leaving Kansas to Establish Themselves in Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 20.—About 50 more German settlers from Butler county, Kan., are expected to arrive in Baltimore next week under the leadership of Pastor Gyr of the Lutheran church of Brainerd, Kan. They will come to join the German colony on the banks of the Nanticoke river, near Vienna, in Dorchester county, Md.

The settlers had their first taste of the few inclemencies of the eastern shore climate Friday night. Their temporary pastor, Rev. C. Burkart, founder of the colony, was with them, although they did not need his presence to make them comfortable, despite the howling of the storm and the rising waters which overran the fields of their neighbors. At the dawn of the succeeding day their axes were resounding in the woods. The trees came down as before, the logs were hauled and the timber hewed for block houses that are to shelter part of the colonists during the winter. Two of the houses are now ready for erection. They are constructed after the fashion the experienced settlers learned in Russia—firm and compact.

SMUGGLED "GOLD DUST."

It Cost $13,000 and a Life and Was Only Brass Filings.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 20.—Jacob Schaefer, dealer in notions, 49, living at 829 Flushing avenue, was arrested by Detective Carroll on the charge of swindling. Schaefer was taken to Justice Watson's court, Ewen and Powers streets, and held for examination in $5,000.

Joseph Freze of 146 Richardson street and Max Fischer of the same address alleged that Schaefer, on Oct. 7, obtained from them $3,000 and $3,500, respectively, and from Mrs. Catharine Freze, mother of Joseph, $6,500, by selling them brass filings, saying the filings were gold dust.

Schaefer, it is alleged, told the swindled persons that two friends of his had arrived from Russia with gold dust they had smuggled. It was worth $20,000, and they could have it for $13,000. The buyers went to Newark, N. J., where the dust was assayed and weighed, and returned home to Williamsburg, and found the bags contained brass filings. When this was announced Mrs. Freze was attacked by heart disease, and died suddenly.

Horsechief Captured.

IRONTON, O., Oct. 20.—John Bocok, who stole a horse from J. M. Harman of Gallia county, Tuesday evening, was captured by Marshal Collier, after an all night chase. Collier was on horseback, and was only a short distance back of Bocok for several miles, but Bocok, being a bareback rider from Sells Brothers' circus, and having neither bridle nor saddle on his horse, got ahead. It is thought Bocok is insane, as he served a term in the insane asylum before. Bocok ran his horse to death.

Yellow Fever Report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—A report was received at the marine hospital bureau from Surgeon Murray at Brunswick, Ga., stating there were 40 new cases of yellow fever there—30 colored and 10 white—and two deaths, one white and one colored. Two new cases are reported on St. Simon's island. The bureau has received no advice concerning the reported yellow fever on the steamer Merjilio, from Mexico, quarantined at Boston.

Moonshine Distillery Destroyed.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 20.—The largest moonshine distillery in eastern Kentucky was captured and destroyed near Burkesville last night by Deputy Revenue Collector Thompson and a posse. There were two stills, and after destroying them, the officers found 1,500 gallons of beer and whisky, which they emptied. Tom Turner, one of the operators, was captured. The concern had a capacity of 2,500 gallons.

Arrows on a Barbed Wire Fence.

MONTGOMERY, O., Oct. 20.—Robert McNeal and wife of Warren county were thrown into a wire fence here in a runaway accident. It is said that the former can not recover from his injuries.

A GRAND JURY'S REPORT.

Elephant Trainer Wilson Indicted For Murder.

BELLAIRE, O., Oct. 20.—The grand jury of Belmont county found an indictment against William Wilson of Cincinnati for murder in the second degree. He was with Cook & Whitby's circus at Martin's Ferry, and got into trouble with a bystander. When Officer George Murphy attempted to arrest him Wilson shot him three times. Murphy died in a few hours.

Wilson is well known in Cincinnati, and is known among circus people all over the country as "Elephant Billy." For years he was chief animal man with Robinson's circus, and got his sobriquet from having charge of the elephants.

After the tragic death of John King, who was crushed to a jelly in a freight car by Chief, the famous man-killing elephant with Robinson's circus, Wilson was the only man who could handle the murderous beast.

On more than one occasion Wilson has saved the lives of people who were attacked by Chief. Wilson had some misunderstanding with the Robinson management and left that show a couple of years ago. This year he signed with Cook & Whitby, having charge of the elephants.

Wilson's reputation is that of a quiet, sober, inoffensive man, and until this time he has never been in trouble.

Attorneys Thomas F. Shay of Cincinnati and Danford of Belmont county have been retained by Wilson's friends to defend him.

Chief, the vicious elephant over whom Wilson had such control, had to be killed. His skeleton and hide are now on exhibition in the Cincinnati zoological gardens.

EXTRAORDINARY ACCIDENT.

Collision of Cablecars in Chicago, but No Lives Lost.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—One of the most extraordinary street railroad accidents on record and which nothing but a miracle saved from being attended with great loss of life and limb, occurred at the junction of Washington street and Fifth avenue.

The cable trains of the West Side road were coming through the tunnel, bound east, when the grip of each car caught in a loose strand which doubled in a knot. This prevented the gripmen from slackening speed and the two trains dashed forward at a terrific rate. At the rounding of the curve at Fifth avenue, the forward drive dashed into a train of four cars that had stopped to let off passengers, while the third car collided with the second.

The force of the double collision was so great that eight cars were derailed and thrown crosswise on or completely off the track, while the ninth was forced front upward to the roof of the grip. The 200 or more passengers in the different cars thrown into a heap, gave vent to shrieks and cries and the people expected that the dead and maimed would be numbered by the score.

Instead of this, however, the passengers had made their escape through the windows. It was doubted that all had escaped injury save a boy of 14 whose face and limbs had been badly cut. Several of the women passengers fainted after reaching the sidewalk and gauging their narrow escape by the appearance of the wreck.

THE FAIR WILL CLOSE.

Jackson Park Must Be Vacated as Soon as Possible.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—There will be neither a world's fair nor an American fair in Jackson park next summer. The exposition will not be prolonged another year. All doubt was settled about it last night at a meeting between the members of the demolition committee of the exposition and the South Park board of commissioners. They agreed that the fair should officially end Oct. 30.

The members of the South Park board announced that they would insist upon the exposition company carrying out the terms of its ordinance. These are that the park commissioners take charge of the grounds Jan. 1, 1894. The directors are given until May of the same year to clear off the state and foreign buildings in the north end of the park, and until May 1, 1895, to remove the main structures on the south end of the grounds. The art gallery is the only structure likely to be left intact, and no decision as to this has been reached.

A BUILDING FALLS.

Accident at Hopkinsville, Ky., Fatally Injures Two Men.

HOPKINSVILLE, Oct. 20.—The building occupied by the Blumenstiel Carriage Manufacturing company of this city collapsed, killing one man and seriously, and in all probability fatally, wounding two others. The building, which was a 2-story brick, was undergoing repairs at the time. The bricks taken down had been piled on the floor of the second story, and as the building had not been properly braced the weight of them caused the collapse.

John Warner, a bricklayer from Nashville, was caught and instantly killed by the falling bricks, which crushed his chest in. Charles Davis, a bricklayer from Clarksville, Tenn., was caught in the wreck and had both legs broken and sustained internal injuries, from which he will die. A man whose name was unknown was also fatally hurt. Several other workmen sustained injuries more or less serious. The building is a total wreck.

Drank From the Wrong Bottle.

ELKHART, Ind., Oct. 20.—William Mammou died here from taking a drink of muriatic acid by mistake.

WHITE CAP OUTRAGE.

Two Different Stories Come From Alabama.

GOVERNOR JONES' STATEMENT.

He Declares That the Recent Reports of the Burning of Cottongins Have Been Greatly Exaggerated, But Still the Outrages Occur Right Along.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 20.—The Commercial's Montgomery (Ala.) special says Governor Jones had this to say to a reporter last night about the posted threats to burn ginhouses in several places over the state. "The whole matter was greatly exaggerated. There were but four counties in the state where gins have been posted and the postings have been done only in two or three localities; but two instances have been reported where there was any reason to suspect that the burning of gins was the act of White Caps, and it was by no means certain in those instances that the fire was the work of any organization or the result of their work."

"The civil officers in these counties are on the alert and the people are helping them to detect those who posted gins, and if any burning is attempted the White Caps will be speedily wiped out. There are reasons to believe in more than one instance that the owners of some of the posted gins had themselves done the posting to avoid suspicion that they were in sympathy with the element suspected of this form of lawlessness."

He declined to say what steps the state authorities will take in the matter beyond the declaration that the guilty parties would certainly be caught.

The Latest Posting.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 20.—The latest posting up of gins took place night before last in Lawrence county. Two gins in that county have been burned within the last three days, entailing a loss of over $9,000. Messrs. Bynum and Ashford are the heaviest losers. No men in the county stand higher than they. The citizens are arming themselves, and it is said that if another gin is burned in that county there will be trouble. They have had enough, and they swear that the White Caps will be run down and killed. Several have been posted in Perry county.

HAPPY MINERS.

A Brazil District Firm Will Resume Business at Once.

BRAZIL, Ind., Oct. 20.—Last May Weaver, Getz & Co., one of the largest coal producing firms in Indiana, went into the hands of an assignee by reason of the money stringency. Yesterday the assignee turned the affairs back into the firm's hands and all the attachments here were removed, leaving the company free to resume business, which they will do at once.

They will open both their Louise and Churchill mines at Center Point, giving employment to about 600 miners, who have been idle all summer. They will also open their large general store at that place. This announcement will create great joy among the former employees, who were beginning to experience actual want.

The Saloon Not Wanted.

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Oct. 20.—Two men from Broad Ripple attempted to start a saloon in the little Quaker town of Westfield. They arrived on the noon train Saturday and, by previous arrangement, almost the entire population turned out to meet them, and ordered them to leave. For two days war seemed inevitable, as both sides were determined and showed fight. The trouble was ended Wednesday by the arrest and fining of the two men for carrying concealed weapons. They agreed to leave town if the fine was remitted.

Lensed Vaults For the Gold.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The clearing-house committee of the associated banks have leased vaults in the Mercantile Safe Deposit company, in which will be stored the gold received on balances daily. Against this gold will be issued clearinghouse gold certificates for circulation among the banks only, and which will be included in calculating the reserves in the weekly bank statement.

A Missing Real Estate Man.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Oct. 20.—The missing real estate agent, W. S. Cox, is still at large. It is known that he bought a railway ticket from this city to Indianapolis. He was under a grand jury indictment for removing a mortgaged laundry plant, and he is also charged with forging tax receipts and the release of a mortgage. Numerous creditors are coming to the front.

Double Crime.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Maurice DeComolion, 33 years of age, shot and dangerously wounded Emelie Alexander, a married woman, at 219 West Sixteenth street. He afterward shot himself and died instantly. The woman was removed to the New York hospital. Where DeComolion lived is unknown.

Passenger Train Wrecked.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 20.—Louisville, Evansville and St. Louis passenger train from Louisville, due here at 10 o'clock, was badly wrecked at Booneville, Ind., at 9 o'clock. Conductor Elmer Smith had a rib broken and the fireman a collarbone broken. None of the passengers were injured.

Chinese Cotton Mill Burned.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 20.—The great Chinese cottonmill in this city has been destroyed by fire. The loss amounts to $500,000. There is no insurance.
